From the Dy Comr, Mysore Dist. No 478 dt. 4.7.1914.

In reply states that out of the 15 members of the Council one was dead, that 7 were present out of the remaining councillors at the meetings held in June & July 1914 & that the number of Councillors who were Councillors present being thus one half of the total number of the existing councillors, business was transacted at these meetings.

Under Sec 26(7) of the Munl Regn one not less than one-half of the whole number of Councillors should be present to form a Quorum. The term "the whole number of Councillors" is said in the notes in the Cummings' Manual to be the number fixed under Sec 11(9) & not the number who may happen to be holding Office at the time. Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Local Fund and Sanitary (Municipal), dated 13th August 1914.

No 1617-26—Ml. 14-13-18, dated Bangalore, 13th August 1914.

Order.—As some instances have been noticed in which the provisions of Sub-Section (7) of Section 25 of the Mysore Municipal Regulation, fixing the quorum for meetings of the Municipal Council have not been correctly understood, Government are pleased to point out that the term "the whole number of Councillors" used in that sub-section refers to the number of Councillors necessary to constitute the full strength of the Council as fixed under Section 11(1) and not to the number of Councillors who may happen to be holding office on the date of the meeting.

Recorded with the observation that as the quorum fixed under sec 26(7) of the Mysore Mul Regn with reference to 'the whole number of Councillors,' that is, the number fixed under sec 11(a), and not the number who may happen to be holding office at the time, the proceedings of the Mul Cl of Malvalli at the meetings in question are, ipso facto, null and void.
